FOUR MINUTE MEN GET INTO ACTION

SPEAKERS TO WARN AGAINST DANGERS OF ENEMY PROPAGANDA.

According to W. T. Lowe, of Decatur, Morgan county chairman for the Four Minute Men, an aggressive speaking campaign will be waged throughout the county by his committee, beginning tonight. Capt. Samuel Blackwell and J. E. Blair will speak in the Masonic and Delite Theatres and Henry Speilberger will speak in the Star Theatre of Decatur.

Speaking of the work of the Four Minute Men for the next three weeks Senator Lowe said: "The subject given all four minute speakers throughout the nation from Aug. 26 to Sept. 17 will be: 'Where did you get your facts?'"

Last month four minute men impressed the necessity of a complete mobilization of the man power of the nation, and now are to devote much effort to arousing the people to the danger of enemy propaganda, such as was used so effectively in Russia and Italy during last year.

Showman Renews An Old Romance; Wedding Results

A wedding of unusual interest took place in the probate judge's office this morning when Miss Evelyn Louise Wilson and Fred H. Irion were united in marriage, Miss Wilson having joined Mr. Irion here for this purpose.

Miss Wilson is the handsome daughter of Mrs. Mary Wilson of Benton, Ill., while Mr. Irion is one of the most widely known advance agents in the south and is now general agent for the "Great Southern Shows." Mr. Irion is a nephew of the late Dr. J. T. Irion, one of the most distinguished writers and journalists of Tennessee.

The romance was one of old standing. Mr. Irion having met Miss Wilson several years ago while managing a theatrical company with which she was connected. Having recently met her again after several years of separation the romance was renewed.

Mr. and Mrs. Irion left immediately after the ceremony for his duties as head of the Great Southern Shows.

ANTI-STRIKE AMENDMENT IS TACKLED ON DRAFT BILL BY SENATE

(International News Service.)

Washington, Aug. 26.—The senate military affairs committee reiterated its support of the Reed-Thomas anti-strike amendment today, when it substituted the man power bill as passed by the house for the senate measure and tacked on the disputed amendment.

(International News Service.)

Washington, Aug. 26.—Enactment by the Senate of the man power bill setting the draft ages at from 18 to 45, the appearance in the House of the $8,000,000,000 revenue measure, and possible definite action on national prohibition, were three far-reaching problems which Congress faced when it reconvened today.

Consideration of the water power bill may also occupy the attention of the House. At a meeting of the Senate military affairs committee today it is expected that the House man power bill, passed on Saturday, will be substituted for that of the Senate. Passage of the bill by the Senate today or tomorrow and transmission of it to the President for his signature before the week-end is anticipated by administration supporters.

HUN MAN POWER FAILING; AUSTRIAN TROOPS CALLED ON

(International News Service.)

Paris, Aug. 26.—Indications point strongly to a crisis in Germany's man power and this, it is held here, is further confirmed by the appearance on the west front of Austro-

Hungarian units. Ludendorff is facing the necessity, first, of keeping up the German morale at home by not yielding too much ground, second, conserving men on the firing line, third, to draw more men from Germany during harvest time.

ENEMY MAY AVERT A SPANISH BREAK

(International News Service.)

Madrid, Aug. 26.—The German ambassador today was received by King Alfonso in a conference on the U-boat controversy between Germany and Spain. Officials believe that the German government expects through negotiations now in progress concerning safe conducts to evolve some way in which to limit the difficulties of Spanish trade. In circles close to the German ambassador it is believed that the chances for a break between the two countries will be lessened.

Peace Offensive is Being Planned

(International News Service.)

These reports, coming in for the most part through diplomatic channels, are causing little more than passing interest and it is made plain that they will be coldly received.

(International News Service.)

Walker's mother proved by the naturalization papers of her husband that her son is only eighteen years old and not subject to the draft act.

The Next Sheriff

The foregoing is the first picture of Morgan county's next sheriff taken since he received the democratic nomination in the recent primaries. Mr. Davis is the second largest sheriff in the county's history, tipping the beam at 268 pounds and standing six feet in his stocking feet. He will succeed J. A. Forman, who holds the record for size and weight of any official ever honored by the voters of the county. If the precedent of electing big men as sheriff continues, those of mediocre proportions need not apply. Mr. Davis is a member of the present commissioner's court and a man of force and character, as the heavy lines in his face indicate. The picture was posed especially for the Daily.

PRINTERS ORGANIZE; BARTEE PRESIDENT

LOCAL BRANCH OF THE INTERNATIONAL TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION IS FORMED.

A local union of the International Typographical Union was formed at a meeting held Sunday afternoon at the Hotel Echols and attended by printers from Albany, Decatur, Hartselle and Athens. Temporary officers were elected as follows:

Burton Bartee, Decatur, president.

L. E. Boeglen, Albany, vice president.

Claude Overton, Albany, secretary-treasurer.

Walter Hannigar, Athens, sergeant-at-arms.

With the exception of Mr. Hannigar the officers are all members of the Daily force.

This is the first effort by printers here in recent years to organize a local, which requires eight or more charter members, although several men hold memberships in locals at other places. The typographical union is one of the strongest of the various labor bodies, and is usually considered a model for the others. It has few strikes and its members are among the best paid of skilled workmen, all being highly trained men.

Sergt. Williams Is Sent Back Home as An Instructor

Sergt. T. Earl Williams, of Company E, the local military organization, after seeing hard service in France has been selected as an instructor in the training camps at home and is now at Camp Meredith. He sailed from Brest, France, and arrived in the United States on August 20. The young officer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Williams, and will probably visit his parents here at an early date. His selection as an instructor is a high compliment and attests his proficiency in military tactics.

Forty-Eight Men Registered Saturday

Forty-eight Morgan county men who have attained their majority since June 5 of the present year registered at the court house Saturday. The majority of these will be eligible for military service.

GEN. BYNG'S VETERANS HURLED AGAINST ENEMY IN THE SCARPE SECTOR

TEN MILES MORE ADDED TO THE EVER WIDENING FIGHTING FRONT

THREE TOWNS ALREADY CAPTURED Unconfirmed Reports Say Germans Have Begun Retirement Along Vesle

(International News Service.)

London, Aug. 26.—(4:31 p. m.)—The British have captured Carney, Mametz, Bazentin, Enacourt L'Abbaye and Le Barque and have reached the road running from Bapaume to Beugnalre, it was learned by the I. N. S. this afternoon. The British troops have also taken the high ground 2,000 yards southeast of Mory and have captured Mory St. Leger. North of the Somme river the Germans still hold Cappy, Suzanne and Maricourt. Fighting continues.

(International News Service.)

With the British Army on the Picardy Front, Aug. 26.—British troops sweeping forward east and southeast of Arras have captured a strip of the famous Hindenburg line—the much touted wall of resistance beyond which the Germans boasted they would never be driven. Gen. Byng's men captured the slope of the ridge skirting Heninel and also dominated Croiseelles, south of Arras.

(International News Service.)

Zurich, Aug. 26.—"We have sustained a defeat," is the frank admission made by the Prussian minister of war in an interview in the radical Berliner Morgenpost. The German press generally openly speaks of the probable forthcoming German retreat.

Field Marshal Foch today added another ten miles to the ever widening fighting front in the west. The allied generalissimo today brought the left wing of Sir Julian Byng's army into action against the enemy in the Scarpe sector east of Arras. At 1 o'clock this afternoon the London offices of the International News Service learned that three towns—Monchy-le-Proux, Guemappe and Wamcourt—had fallen to the British and the German lines had been pierced to a depth of two miles. This makes the fourth time that Gen. Foch has seen fit to widen the scope of operations since he set the mammoth offensive under way. Like its predecessors the new stroke comes at a time when the main drive had been slowed up against massed reserves of the enemy. Unconfirmed reports say that the Germans have begun a big retirement along the Vesle, where the Americans face them.

(International News Service.)

With the British Army on the Picardy Front, Aug. 25.—(Night.)—The advance of the allies is spreading like a prairie fire. Fighting now extends over a thirty-mile front.

The same brisk advance and sweeping successes marked the operations of the British forces today as on Saturday.

The total number of prisoners taken since the fourth British army made its initial push on August 8 is now nearing the 50,000 mark. Six hundred officers have been seized, together with 700 guns. An enormous harvest of machine guns and vast quantities of material of all kinds has been taken during the last two days. The drive already has developed into the most important British offensive movement since the beginning of the war. British patrols are said to have entered Bapaume. The most important battle today centers around that city.

(International News Service.)

London, Aug. 26.—(Noon.)—British troops have extended their fighting front. The British war office announced today that Haig's men attacked at 3 o'clock this morning in the Scarpe sector and are making good progress. The third and fourth armies continue to forge ahead. Progress has been made astride the Somme river and at Maricourt, the war office announced. Fazeuil is now in British hands. Heavy rain is falling in the Somme sector.

The announcement means that the fighting has been spread over a very wide territory.

The Germans, it has been learned through prisoners, have rushed reinforcements to the Flanders front.

The battle line is now about 85 miles long.

The total casualties suffered by the third and fourth British armies, August 21 to August 26, was 23,602. In the same period they took more than 20,000 German prisoners.

(International News Service.)

Rome, Aug. 26.—American aviators, co-operating with the Italian forces in the Adriatic, have routed an Austrian air patrol, it was learned today. The Americans played an important part in the bombing of Pola during the past few days.

(International News Service.)

With the American forces on the Aisne-Vesle, Aug. 26.—The Germans are putting up a desperate resistance against Gen. Mangin's army north of Soissons. The advance of the French troops north of Soissons is particularly bitterly contested, as the entire German line at the Vesle is threatened with disaster.

LOCAL BRANCH OF PURITY LEAGUE TO BE FORMED SOON

DR. BONNER WARNS AGAINST SOCIAL DISEASES AND DENOUNCES DOUBLE STANDARD

"Purity is as necessary in Tom, Dick and Harry as it is in Mary. The social evil must go. It is going just like Old Booze did. He is on the run—down the back alley—a leg, a wing, a piece of the breast—and God have mercy on his soul as he goes."

Dr. Arthur Bonner, Alabama lecturer of the World's Purity League, thus prophesied the fall of social impurity, when he spoke at the Central Methodist Church yesterday morning. Dr. Bonner has authority to organize a local branch of the Purity League and stated after his address that he would return here in about a week for that purpose. The speaker, who is head of the Bible Study Department of the State University, prefaced by saying that most universities now had a biblical department. He predicted that soon, by the consent of all creeds, portions of the Bible would be read daily in the public schools as a basis for common devotion. He said that Protestants, Catholics and Jews alike should settle on a working basis as to the use of the Bible in the public schools. The Social Evil.

In a breezy, hustling manner, free of all indelicacy, Dr. Bonner then launched forth against the fiend of impurity. He said that he had the authority of the wisest people for it, that the women as well as the men should be told plainly of the ravages of social diseases. The speaker said that outside of physicians and druggists, until the recent war, few knew the extent of those loathsome maladies. He said that war statistics showed that four hundred out of every thousand of the boy soldiers of Alabama had these diseases, four out of every ten; that 500 men had to be taken from the Rainbow Division on account of these diseases, and that a certain physician told him that in one of our neighbor counties there were only six families in which such diseases were not found. The speaker laid the responsibility for such "terrific conditions" at the door of general neglect on the part of all. He said above all, parents should tell their children of the secrets of life and of the sacredness of the sources of life.

The speaker had used as his text the Bible expression to the effect that the body is the temple of the Holy Ghost, and that whosoever should defile the body should have his soul destroyed. Dr. Bonner also blamed the "conspiracy of silence" in the home, in the school and in the church on the matter of sexology. He blamed the double standard. "We should be kinder to the girl who goes wrong and sterner toward the boy." He said mothers were foolish to receive into their homes the sowers of wild oats as social lions. The scientific, near-impossibility of advanced social diseases ever being cured was stressed. "When that poison once gets hold on the grey matter—the life principle—a cure is next to impossible."

The speaker denounced the traveling street fairs, denominating them as "peripatetic vice dens."

"Arouse the public conscience and demand better laws for the protection of the fountains of life," declared the speaker.

Mrs. Calvin Dies; Husband Now In Service Overseas

One of the sad incidents in connection with the war, was the death in the far west of Mrs. Robt. P. Calvin, whose husband is now in the military service overseas. Mrs. Calvin's remains were brought back to her former home at Pulaski, Tenn., Saturday for interment. She had gone west some months ago in search of health.

Robt. P. Calvin, the husband, who as yet does not know of his bereavement, is a brother of J. H. Calvin and Earl Calvin of the Twin Cities.

NORMAL SCHOOLS ARE ENEMIES TO ILLITERACY.

The training schools for teachers, located at Florence, Jacksonville, Livingston and Troy, are doing a great work to remove illiteracy from the state. If these institutions had been developed and had received sufficient state aid twenty years ago to enable them to turn out 1,000 well-trained teachers annually, the present outcry about illiteracy would never have existed. These institutions are gaining ground rapidly, for they are confining their work strictly to teacher-training. No students are admitted unless they sign a pledge to become teachers.

From every county in the state the call comes to these schools, "give us trained teachers." The public conscience is awakened and the people are realizing that no one has a right to teach without making thorough preparation for his work. Doctors—even horse doctors—must have special training or they will not be employed; lawyers, dentists, every sort of professional man, must have training in schools fitting each one for his profession, but in the past anybody has been allowed to attempt teaching.

The "work or fight" order might be extended to the women golfers without in any way contributing to Germany's prospects for winning the war.

Automobiles have been put on the "preferred list." The fair sex has had their owners there a long time.

Uncle Sam will have plenty of "cannon fodder" when he gets the class of '46.

ALBANY RED CROSS.

It was learned incidentally what a splendid work Former Mayor R. H. Wolcott is doing as chairman of the Civilian Relief Committee, or Home Service Committee, as it is now called. Mr. Wolcott has advanced a number of loans to the dependents of soldiers who have not received their allowances from the government. He also investigated and reported to the government many other matters relating to the good of the army. Mr. Wolcott desires those who are expected to furnish his office with a complete list of the families of Morgan county who have soldiers at the front to do so at once.

MRS. OSCAR ORTHMAN TESTIFIES

GREAT CURE OF CATARRH BY QUAKER HERB EXTRACT.

There is no doubt about it, while catarrh seems to predominate every where, it is a difficult disease to conquer. Young and old are suffering from it and, strange to relate, even most children are afflicted with it. All kinds of medicines are recommended, inhalers and vaporizers are used, salves and ointments are taken and applied, yet in spite of all, very few cures are reported. The Health Teacher was asked yesterday: "Can catarrh really be cured?" As an answer to this question he relates the following: "Six weeks ago Mr. Oscar Orthman, living on Duke Street, Birmingham, called at the store. He had a dreadful case of catarrh indeed. It caused a constant roaring and buzzing in his head, affected his senses of hearing, smell and taste. He was continually hawking and spitting, subject to a raw throat and his stomach was in wretched condition. All these things were due to a dreadful case of catarrh. After he had spent nearly all his money for treatment and medicines without getting better, he was told there was no help for him unless possibly a complete change of climate. He is a man with a large family, so he could not afford to pack up and move to a different climate. Such advice may be good for a rich man but not for a man working for a small salary. I realized his condition, and really did not expect even my wonderful Quaker Remedies would cure him. But I was anxious for him to try them. I sold him a small treatment of Quaker Extract, Quaker Salt and Tablets, but offered him a return of the price if they failed to help. I did not hear from him again for five weeks. He called, grabbed me by the hands and said: "I feel like a different man. My head is clear, I have no more head noises. I can smell and taste again, and my stomach feels fine. I am so well now that you may publish my statement any time or place you choose."

The Quaker Health Teacher can still be seen at the Owl Drug Store, Decatur, Ala., on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, and at Thompson's Drug Store, Albany, Ala., on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday of each week. See him at once if you value good health.

Quaker Herb Extract is $1.00 per bottle; during sale, three for $2.50. Quaker Oil of Balm, kills pain, 25c and 50c. Free samples given.

HIGH COST OF DYING TO

LESSEN SUICIDES, HE SAYS
(International News Service)
Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 24—While keeping quiet on the much-talked-about and demoralizing H. C. of L. local undertakers have decided that if there must be economy in living there should be economy in dying. At a recent meeting of all undertakers they decided to raise the price of dying about 30 per cent. Increased cost of labor and material was given as the reason, although one of the undertakers declared that such a step would discourage suicides.

MEETINGS WELL ATTENDED.

The gospel meetings at the Church of Christ, East Jackson Street, Albany were well attended at both services yesterday. Evangelist John O. Klingman of Lebanon, Tenn., is doing the preaching and will preach at 8 p. m. daily and at the L. & N. shops throughout this week at the noon hour. The church invites the presence of all its friends to all services.

AMUSEMENTS

GERALDINE FARRAR

IN "THE DEVIL STONE"

We are given a glimpse into the palace of Grenelda, the rites of sacrifice and the hurrying to death of a Christian priest when Grenelda wrests from him the fatal stone, visualized by Marcia Manot when she finds the emerald near her seacoast home in France. Apparently the curse which the dying priest placed upon Grenelda is carried down into the life of Marcia, for a series of direful events take place until after the death of Silas Martin, brought on through his attempt to sell the valuable relic and get rid of his wife.

Through the latter events of the story in America runs the thread of a romantic love, culminating in the happy marriage of Marcia and Guy Sterling, and the clearing of both of responsibility for the death of Silas Martin through the efforts of a noted criminologist, Robert Judson.

The role of Guy Sterling, business manager for Silas Martin, and later the lover and husband of Marcia, is played by Wallace Reid, whose work in support of Miss Farrar in "Joan the Woman," and in the superb Aztec production, "The Woman God Forgot," has added to the popularity of the handsome leading man. See this picture at the Masonic Theatre Tuesday.

IN FLANDERS FIELDS.

"In Flanders Fields," by Lieut. Colonel John McRae, who afterwards joined his comrades whose call he thus sounded, is one of the most remarkable poems by a participant in the war:

"In Flanders fields the poppies blow,
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place; and in the sky
The larks, still bravely singing, fly,
Scarce heard amidst the guns below.
We are the dead. Short days ago,
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved, and were loved, and now we lie
In Flanders fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe
To you, from failing hands, we throw
The torch—Be yours to hold it high!
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders fields."

Shortage of Teachers

What are our people going to do about the serious shortage of teachers in the state? Unless all signs fail, more than 1,000 white schools in the state will be short of teachers the coming session. This shortage will be most keenly felt in the country schools. The people can't look to any of the higher institutions of learning nor to any other set of schools than the state normals to supply them with trained teachers. Graduates of colleges don't go back to the country schools. The only schools to which the people can turn to supply teachers are the normal schools, located at Florence, Jacksonville, Livingston and Troy.

The normal schools admit none but teachers. They are in session twelve school months each year. They ought to be enlarged and required to train a sufficient number of teachers to meet the demand in Alabama's public schools.

The Misses Royer's Ready-to-Wear.

Offers for your inspection a complete showing of Fall Suits, Coats and Dresses in a wonderful variety in style.

New Fall Skirts

Are dominated by an air of refinement and simplicity, due to the use of the best material and exquisite workmanship. Satins, plaid, velours, velvet and faille combination, and splendid tailored skirts of men's wear serge, and all wool gabardine, have been added to our stock in the last few days.

New Fall Blouse

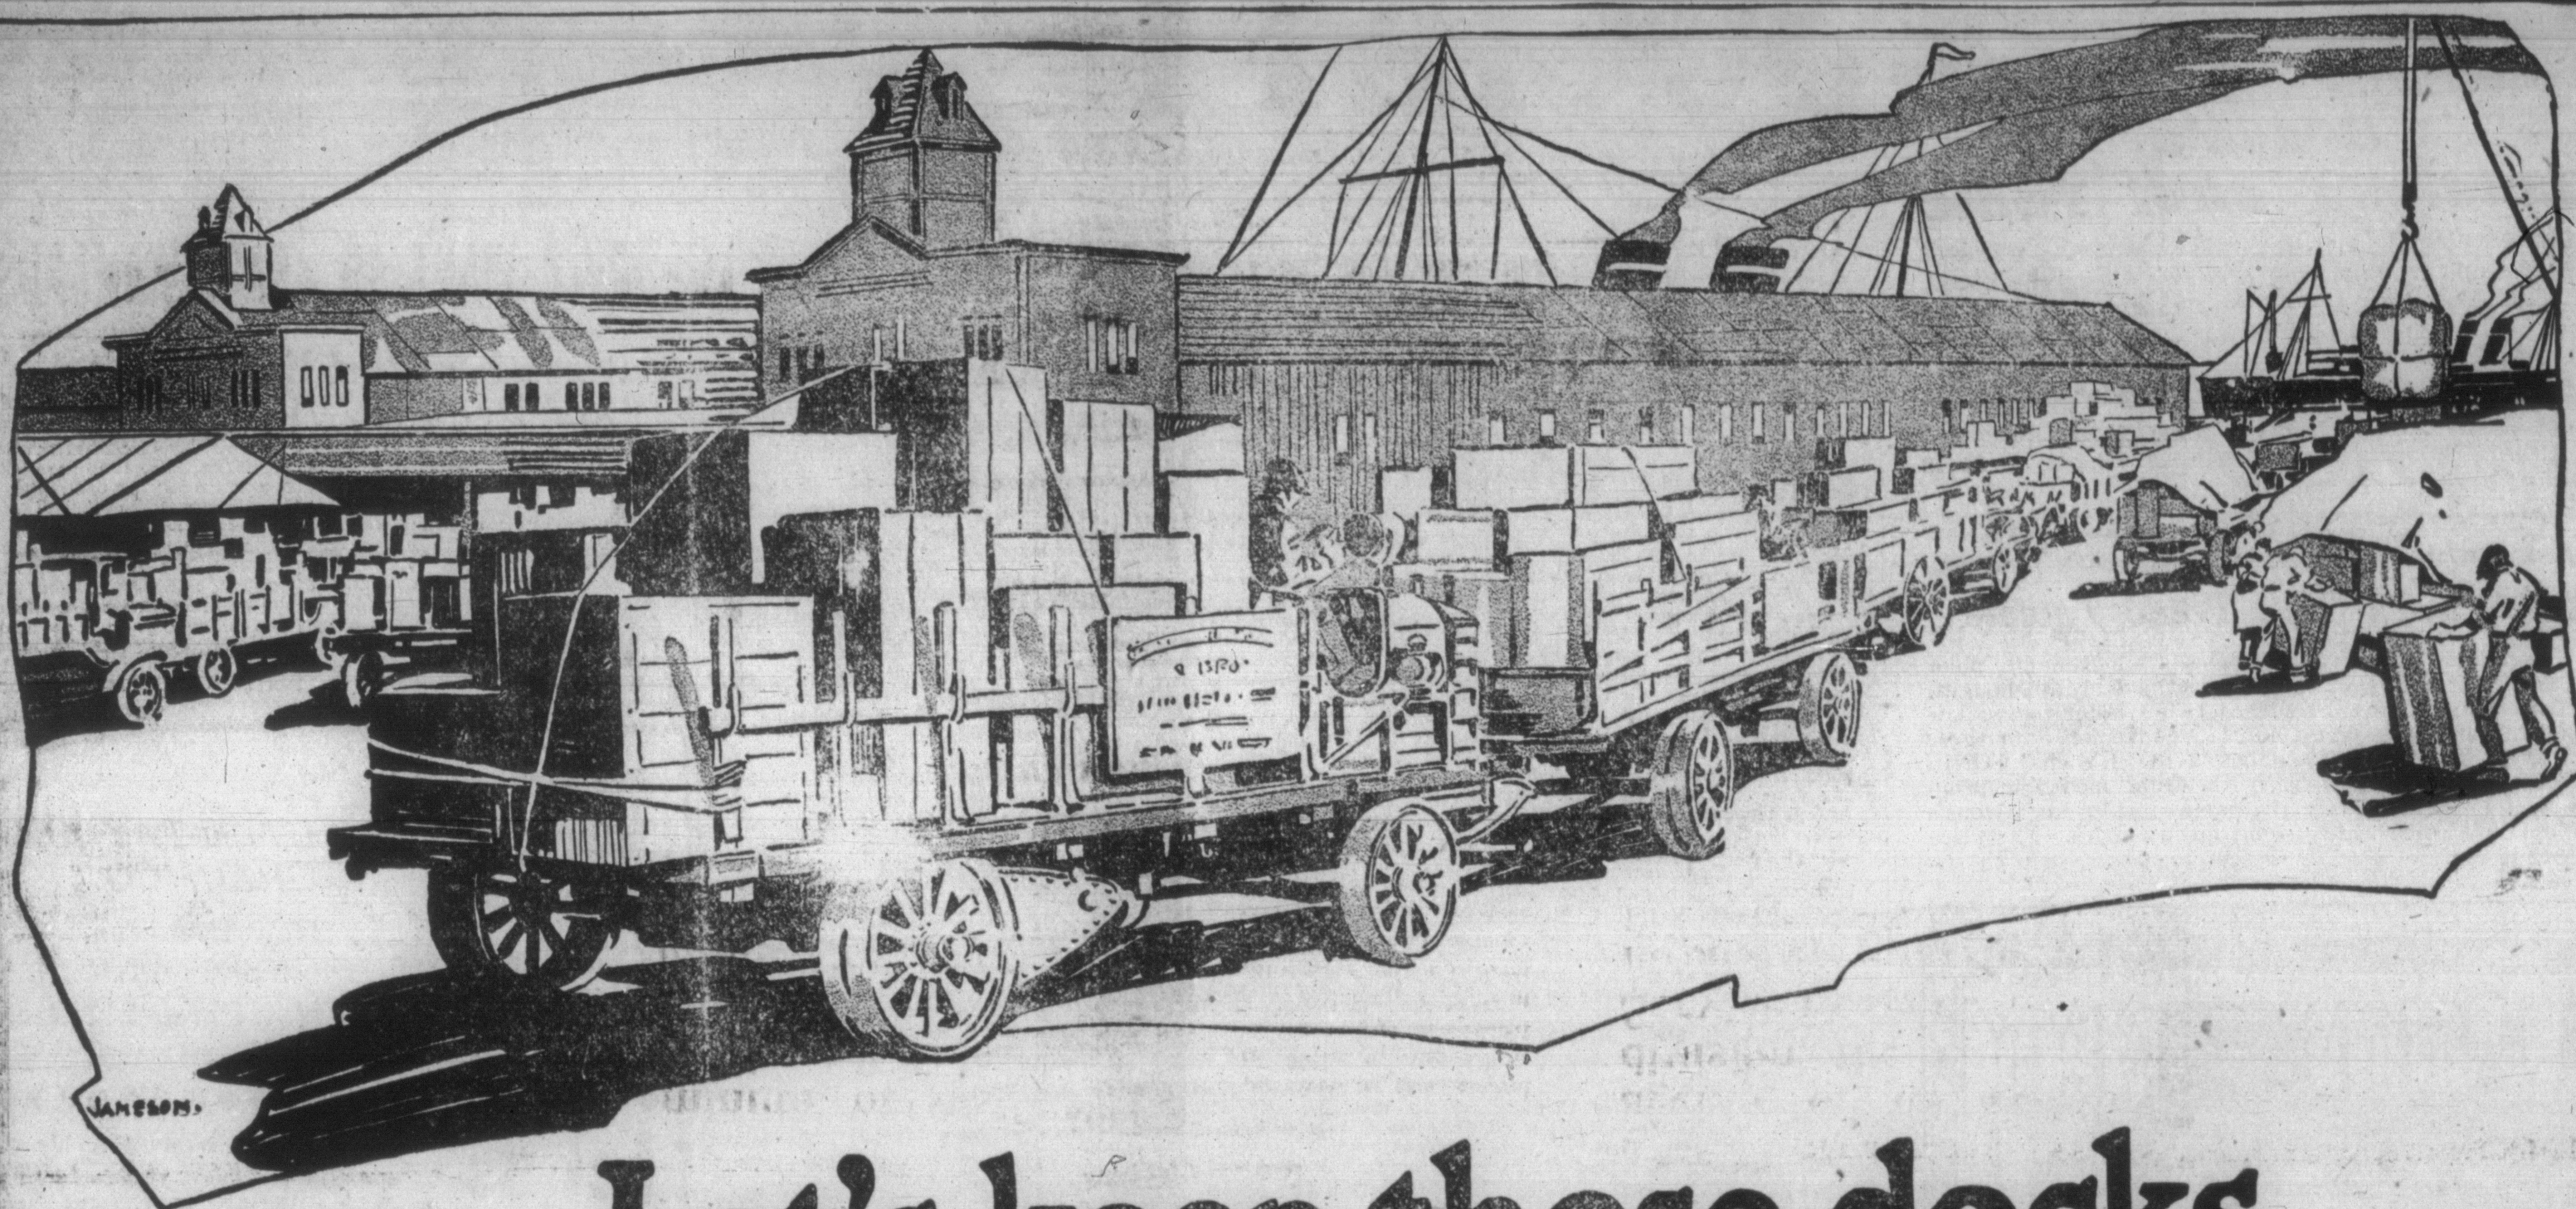

This store is known for the exclusiveness of its blouse—attractive modes—rich shades are the keynote to all our blouse. For the Fall georgette is featured as the dominating fabric, and lovely combinations of shades are seen.

Flesh, white, black, bisque, taupe, rose, navy and all the suit shades are here.

The models vary from elaborate lace-trimmed, braided, beaded and embroidered effects, to the severely plain, high collared neatly tucked blouse.

ATTRACTIVE AUTUMN FROCKS

—Are displayed in all the new modes and materials. Leading is the much wanted and popular jersey, which comes in such durable and lovely colors as beige, French blue, navy, brown and bisque. Built on slender straight lines, or draped and belted, they are trimmed in fringe and braided, or daintily finished with a bit of embroidery. Striking and handsome are the serges, and charming and lustrous are the charmeuse satins—all are elegant and characteristic of the season.

Let's keep those docks piled high!

GUNS and Shells for the boys in France to thrash the Kaiser with —there on the docks. Every day they start for France as the laden ships swing seaward—and every day new piles arrive. Let's keep those docks piled high!

There is only one way to do it—and that is for every last one of us, whether he runs a lathe or runs a 10,000-man plant, to put in every minute of his working day where it does the most good. Every working minute lost or wasted means less help for the men across the seas.

And there are not just minutes but whole days lost every time a man changes his job. A man has to be found to replace him. He loses time in moving. He takes time to catch on to the ways in the new plant.

PRESIDENT'S STATEMENT

"Industry plays an essential and honorable role in this great struggle as do our military armaments. We all recognize the truth of this, but we must also see its necessary implications—namely, that industry, doing a vital task for the nation, must receive the support and assistance of the nation."

"Therefore, I solemnly urge all employers engaged in war work to refrain after August 1st, 1918, from recruiting unskilled labor in any manner except through this central agency. I urge labor to respond as loyally as heretofore to any calls issued by this agency for voluntary enlistment in essential industry. And I ask them both alike to remember that no sacrifice will have been in vain, if we are able to prove beyond all question that the highest and best form of efficiency is the spontaneous co-operation of a free people."

WOODROW WILSON.

This can be done through the national labor clearing house that the Government has established with 500 branch offices and 20,000 agents of its recruiting division, the U. S. Public Service Reserve. There is no charge—and the Service is now placing 200,000 skilled and unskilled men monthly.

Let's keep ALL the essential war work going at top-speed. Tell your labor needs to the local Examiner-in-Charge, local agent of the U. S. Public Service Reserve, or to the Director General at Washington.
